

This proposal by the NCVEC is right on target. There is no need to keep the CW requirement in amateur radio. The future of amateur radio and its ability to attract new users is at stake.